Christmas Parties Set For Y

The Andover-North Andover YMCA will hold two Christmas parties open to the public.

On Saturday, Dec. 22, between 10:30 and noon there will be a party for boys and girls ages three through kindergarten. There will be games, refreshments and a visit from Santa Claus.

Boys and girls in grades one to six are invited to a party on the same day between 1 and 3 p.m. The program will include games, refreshments and a movie.

Tickets may be purchased at the Haverhill Street, Andover, building on a first-come basis with a limited number of tickets available.

Bloodmobile To Visit Monday

During the busy holiday season, people often forget about donating blood. Patients need blood every day, and are counting on others to remember them.

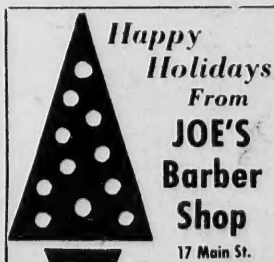

If you're between the ages of 17 (with written parental consent) and 65, weigh at least 110 pounds, have never had hepatitis, and are in general good health, you can probably donate blood.

Donating blood is safe and simple. The entire process takes less than an hour, with the actual donation taking only 5 to 10 minutes. Your body contains about 8-12 pints of blood, and the blood you give is quickly replaced. You may donate every eight weeks — up to five times a year.

The next local Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at Christ Church, Central Street, Andover on Dec. 24 from 9 to 3 p.m. To make an appointment for this bloodmobile, or for more information, call Joan or Clark Lewis at 475-7971.

Cattle First

In the Ukraine, cattle are given the first taste of the Christmas supper, because animals were the first to behold the Christ Child. In parts of rural Germany, cattle and their owners both fast the day before Christmas, eat well on Christmas Eve.

South School Parents Join Building Defense

By Tim Greene

Following the lead of Shawsheen and Doherty School parents, South School parents showed up at Tuesday night's school committee meeting to defend their school.

This time parents wanted to protest the possible conversion of their school into a middle or junior high school, but no decision was made by the committee.

Instead, Jan. 3, 1980 was set as the committee's next meeting date to hear public comment on the choice of either a 5-3-4 or a 6-3-3 grade organization, and which elementary school will be converted into a junior high or a middle school.

The committee may or may not make a decision on those two issues at that meeting.

The South protest began with a letter from the South School PTO sent to School Committee Chairman Elaine Viehmann, copies of which were passed out to members of the audience, which numbered about 80, although there were many among the group who were school administrators who normally attend.

Objections mentioned in the letter included the school's distance from the center of town and access to Memorial Hall Library, lack of sidewalks next to roads leading to the school and doubts about whether the cost of renovating South into a middle or junior high school was "really similar" to those for equivalent renovations of the Doherty School, also being considered for use as a middle school or junior high.

Parents in the audience protested possible increased vandalism in the area if older students attend the school, with one parent saying, "I feel like I'm in the process of being mugged, only I'm in a room and it's well lit. I fear for my own

School Options Hearing Jan. 3

Jan. 3, 1980 was set as the date the school committee will hear public opinion on which elementary school to convert into a middle or junior high school, and which of two grade organizations the school building project should be based on.

The school building committee narrowed down its choice of proposed building programs to two at a meeting last Thursday, and presented those two as recommendations to the school committee.

They are a $10.3 million program based on the 5-3-4 organization and a $8.3 million program based on the 6-3-3 organization.

Depending on which grade organization is chosen, one elementary school will be converted into either a middle school or a junior high.

At the request of parents present at Tuesday's meeting, the school administration will give an informational presentation on the relative merits of the 5-3-4 and the 6-3-3 educationally.

Generally, the administration favors the 5-3-4, according to Supt. Kenneth Seifert. Advantages he listed included wider program offerings for sixth graders who would be in a middle school, and for ninth graders who would be in the high school. The ninth graders would also have the advantage of participating in high school sports and other extracurricular activities while they are actually housed in the high school building.

Both the 6-3-3 and the 5-3-4 options call

Erickson Honored At Reception

Retiring Planning Board Chairman David Erickson was honored at a reception Sunday afternoon as close to 60 paid tribute to his ten years of service to the town. Present and former associates on the planning board and members of the department of community development and planning attended the gathering in recognition of Erickson's extensive service to the town in the area of growth planning and direction.

Clark At Governor's Meeting

Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark was scheduled to meet with Gov. Edward King this morning as a member of the Massachusetts Municipal Association special Committee on Taxes and Expenditures.

Clark and his committee were to encourage the governor to appoint a tax and expenditure policy committee at the state level, similar to one named a few years ago to study growth policy within the Commonwealth.

Clark said that while there is no simplistic approach to property tax relief and control of expenditures, direction and policy from the state level would be an initial constructive approach.

Clark's committee is working on short and long term recommendations for towns and cities, and feels that recognition of problems at the state level would provide proper impetus.

Concern For Vandalism In Area

Area police chiefs and selectmen met Wednesday to examine the increasing problem of vandalism in communities.

The administrators were working on a regional approach to initiating an anti-vandalism campaign. A key element in such a campaign would be public involvement in a crime prevention program conducted through education.

Most area communities now have crime prevention officers, Patrolman Joseph Ouellette of Andover recently completing a course and being designated the town's agent.

State Funds Distributed

Andover received $420,885 in the most recent distribution of state aid under provisions of Chapter 70, schools and school districts.

The Andover portion was from the total distribution of $178,830,333 for the second quarter of the year.

Selectmen Meet Today

Selectmen will meet this afternoon at 4:30 p.m. in the conference room at town hall.

The board faces a light agenda which includes some appointments, discussion of civil service reform and license and special permit grants.

The meeting replaces the session scheduled for next Monday.

Comments On AIRS Due Jan. 3

The deadline for community comment on the dissemination program for the Andover Individualized Reading Program (AIRS) before the program is considered for refunding, was set for Jan. 3, 1980. School Committee Chairman Elaine Viehmann reminded the committee Tuesday night.

The program, administered by Esther Campbell, supplies school districts from around the country with information about AIRS.

Comments from Andover parents on the program should be sent to Campbell through the Stowe School.

Elected Directors Of Bank

Lawrence Cooperative Bank Chairman Douglas N. Howe and President and Chief Executive Officer, A. George Beninati, announce the election of three new directors at a recent special shareholders meeting.

All those elected are prominent area residents, and will serve to further diversity both in community activities and professional backgrounds, the representation that exists on the current board of directors. Those elected are: Alton W. Noyes, Executive Director of the Lawrence General Hospital. Mr. Noyes resides with his wife, Marion, at 12 Candlewood Drive, Andover; Clive B. Fazioli, vice-president and Boston Area Administrator for Tucker, Anthony, & R. L. Day, Inc. Mr. Fazioli resides with his wife, Judith, at Whispering Pines Way, Andover; Julien J. Lacourse, vice-president of Demoulas Supermarkets, Inc. Mr. Lacourse resides with his wife Anne, at 76 Poore St., Andover.

Be Fire-proof

Avoid flammable Christmas decorations such as tissue paper, cotton batting, flock and some foamed plastics. Stick with non-combustible and flame retardant decorations. Don't make a bonfire of your gift wrappings and evergreen boughs in the fireplace.

Honored By I.R.S.

Five residents of Andover and North Andover were honored for their career service, Friday Dec. 14, at a ceremony held in the Internal Revenue Center, Andover.

Christopher C. Cullinan was given an award by Director Joseph H. Cloonan for a quarter century of service. Grace DeParis received a 20-year award as did Paul F. Ellard of North Andover.

Marilyn Colittes and Peter F. Gagliardi, both of Andover were honored for 15 years service. Lemuel Lanier, of Andover, retired Service Center Branch Chief, was speaker for the occasion.

A group of horseback riders rode up Central Street past South Church from the horse barns on Argilla Road, singing Christmas carols as they went. The group made their way through the downtown rush hour crowd before returning to the barn. Included among the riders were instructor Ellen O'Connor, Elizabeth Bainbridge, Toni Harris, Kim Lilly and Susan Lilly.

Pack 77 Celebrates The Season

New Buses Ordered; Elderly Fares Reduced

By Randolph W. Lehman-Becker
Andover Representative
The Merrimack Valley
Regional Transit Authority

On Dec. 10, the Merrimack Valley Regional Transit Authority opened bids for seven new buses to be in service on the Greater Lawrence lines that serve Andover. General Motors Bus Division will be supplying the buses, which should arrive sometime in the fall of 1980. The new buses, built as a standard Advanced Bus Design model, will be 35 feet long, and will be powered by the economical V-6 engines. In addition to greater passenger comfort, these Advanced Bus Design vehicles have been engineered to provide both greater measures of safety and ease of maintenance. Some of these models have just been introduced on the Greater Lowell Regional Transit system, with great acceptance by operators and riders alike.

This will be the first major update of local bus equipment in many years. The majority of the fleet now being operated are 1961 models, which may soon be headed for a special federal refurbishing program to re-fit them for further use in peak hour service. One of the goals of the Transit Authority is to increase rush hour service as more equipment becomes available; the combination of the new buses and the refitted equipment may make that possible in the near future. Representatives from the manufacturer indicate that service records on this new design of bus indicate a much lower maintenance requirement, and a failure-on-road rate that is as little as 25% of the rate from other buses currently available. This should mean more reliable service for our community.

Christmas Tree

In the 1650's, German pilgrims brought their tannenbaum (Christmas tree) tradition to the new land, long before the practice took root in England.

Children's Programs

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Dec. 26, 27 and 28, children visiting the Peabody Museum of Salem can enjoy delightful programs geared to ages five through 12. Each day from 10 to 11:30 a.m., members of the Museum Education Department will intersperse films of children in another culture with games and toys from that part of the world. Beginning with Eskimos on the 26th, programs will spotlight Africa on Dec. 27 and Japan on the 28th.

There is no charge for these programs beyond the regular admission. While their children join in supervised play, parents can sample the Peabody's three fascinating museums in one.

But, before the new buses come to Andover, a word about something that is here now. In addition to the special Elderly and Handicap van service recently initiated in town, the regular runs of the MVRTA buses offer the Elderly a special service, with a special fare of 15¢ within the greater Lawrence/Andover/No. Andover system. This is a 50% reduction from the usual 30¢ fare. To take advantage of the fare, just present any form of senior citizen identification, and pay the fare.

In the near future, the MVRTA will be issuing photo ID's for use on all their services for the elderly/handicapped. Notices of ways to obtain that card will be made in the next two months.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

Although Christmas Day will be observed as a holiday at The Haven the day before — Monday — is not and The Haven will be open all day. You might like to know that The Haven is exempt from President Carter's 65 degree thermostat setting and the temperature will be kept warmer. If any of you are finding your apartments cold and uncomfortable, you are invited to come and enjoy the warmth and activity of The Haven.

There will be no hot lunch program during the school Christmas recess, but at least one day of that time you can have a special feast. Friday, Dec. 28, there will be a Pot Luck luncheon at The Haven. As is customary you are expected to bring "something" for the luncheon. It may be a casserole or a salad or a dessert, but you should let the staff at The Haven know which so that they can plan a reasonably balanced meal. If you cannot prepare something yourself, there are other items you may contribute such as rolls and butter, or candy and nuts, etc. If you can't think of anything, call the staff and they'll be happy to make suggestions. The luncheon will start at 12:30.

"Yes, Virginia. . .

...there is a Santa Claus." Editor Francis Church's letter in 1897 to 8-year-old Virginia became a classic when the New York Sun reprinted it every Christmas for 50 years.

And if you'd like to, you're invited to remain after lunch and play Bingo during the afternoon. Friday, Dec. 28. Make a day of it!

Please do return the questionnaires contained in the last Haven newsletter concerning your desires and suggestions for the winter and spring program. If you did not get a questionnaire, you may request one at the Haven or simply telephone them with your ideas. They will be most welcome. 475-3968 or 475-4165.

The Haven — Andover's senior center — will be open throughout the holiday season except for Christmas and New Year's Days. The usual groups — the bridge players, the forty-fives players, the discussion groups will continue their activities and you are always welcome to come in and have a cup of coffee or tea and just visit. There is no reason why you should stay home, cold and lonely, when you have The Haven to go to.

On behalf of The Haven Senior Center staff and this writer — A very Merry Christmas and a joyous New Year to you all.

Three Named To Who's Who

The 1979-80 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges will carry the names of 37 students from Merrimack College, who have been selected as being among the country's most outstanding campus leaders.

These students have been chosen for their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential.

Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934.

Students names this year from Merrimack College are:

Ann Marie, Daly, an accounting major, is the daughter of Augustine and Mary Daly, 94 Ballardvale Road, Andover. At Merrimack College she has been a Presidential Scholar, and has been named top accounting student by the Massachusetts Society of CPA's. She has previously been active with the Accounting and Finance Society and with the basketball team. She is a graduate of Andover High School, where she was named to the National Honor Society.

Sean McGowan, 16 Johnson Road, Andover, is majoring in biology and mathematics (education). At Merrimack College he has been a member of the soccer team, student government, orientation committee, class council and commuter council, and has been a yearbook photographer. He is a graduate of Bowie (Md.) High School where he was active in track, cross country and the yearbook. He is the son of Barbara A. and Thomas P. McGowan II of Bowie, Md.

John Parrotta, majoring in biology and chemistry, is the son of Prof. Ralph and Laurell B. Parrotta, 158 Beacon St., Andover. At Merrimack College he has been named to the dean's list every semester, has made Who's Who and has been active in golf, the student newspaper and Merrimack. He is the recipient of a Rotary Foundation Fellowship for graduate study at the University of Aberdeen (Scotland) for a master's degree in ecology. He is a graduate of Andover High School where he was a member of the National Honor Society, a captain of the golf team for two years, and active in gymnastics. Last summer he was a student research participant at Oak Ridge National Laboratory in Tennessee.

Kurt A. Reming, an accounting major, is the son of Edward J. and Helen T. Reming, 101 Elm St., Andover. At Merrimack College he has been a Presidential Scholar, has made the dean's list and has received the Men of Merrimack and DPK scholarships. He has been active in intramural sports, the Accounting Society and Political Science Society. He is a graduate of Andover High School.

Sable Fur

Sable fur varies from black to bright yellow, but usually it is dark brown. The "golden fleece" that Jason brought from Colchis (between the Black and Caspian Seas) to Greece may have been sable fur, Mass. Audubon tells us.

'Scotty' Digs His Work

By Jane E. Shattuck

He has spent 15.2 years of his life in a tent.

He was the 1938 Golden Gloves Boxing champion.

He has recently been named a Fulbright scholar to the University of Leningrad in the Soviet Union.

He is one of the foremost archaeologists of our time and Director of the Robert S. Peabody Foundation for Archaeology.

He is Richard Stockton MacNeish of Bancroft Road in Andover.

"Scotty" as he is called, knew nothing of archaeology until 1930.

In his book, The Science of Archaeology, he tells the story of himself as a teenage boy, who uninterested in his art history class yet having to do a project for it, haphazardly signed up for a subject. Scotty chose to do a notebook on Maya because it began with an M like MacNeish. Thus Maya, the American Mecca located on the Yucatan Peninsula, was Scotty's introduction to his life's work — archaeology. He went on to graduate from the University of Chicago in 1940 with a bachelors degree in Anthropology.

While at the University of Chicago, Scotty had the opportunity to participate in five archaeological excursions or "digs." In 1936, 1937, and 1938, he worked in Central New York and Northeastern Arizona. (Rainbow Bridge, Monument Valley). In 1939 and 1940, he worked in Central and Southern Illinois. And, despite his archaeological studies, he managed to win the 1938 Golden Gloves Boxing Championship, the highest achievement in local amateur boxing. Scotty returned to the University of Chicago to get his masters degree in Archaeology, Physical Anthropology and Ethnology by 1944. He received his doctorate in Archaeology in 1949. By that time, Scotty had the experience of 17 digs. Now, after 43 years as an archaeologist, he has a total of 67 digs and more than 5600 days in a tent to his credit.

Tehuacan, Mexico and Ayacucho, Peru are the sites of his most famous digs. A multi-volume account of Tehuacan has been published while the second of a six volume account of Ayacucho will go to the printer before Christmas. In total, Scotty has published 221 books and articles. His first article entitled, "Middle Woodland Culture" appeared in Illinois Academy of Science Transactions in 1944. He has since published everything from site analyses to texts explaining methods and techniques which he has either modified or developed himself.

Besides digging and writing, Scotty has also taught and lectured. In 1964 to 1968, he was head of the archaeology department at the University of Calgary, Canada. In the fall of 1968, he became director of the Robert S. Peabody Foundation for Archaeology located on the Phillips Academy campus in Andover. The foundation was started to foster archaeological research and "to make students aware that such a science as archaeology exists." Although few students stumble into the Peabody museum, student interest in the one archaeology course offered is strong. Robert Peabody complained that he learned "not a single fact of archaeology" while at Andover or at Harvard. This statement is no longer true.

As director of the foundation, Scotty is expected to undertake research, to publish the results, to direct programs of research and to administer to the Foundation. His administrative duties include the supervision of a curator and those who maintain the building plus the editors, artists and typists involved in the publishing of his texts.

Scientists worldwide are familiar with Scotty's writings. Having worked with the Soviets in the Northwest Territories, Alaska and Canada on man's migration across the Bering Straits and the Neolithic Revolution, Scotty knows the Russians and they know him. "They have had to read my stuff whether they like it or not!" he states.

With the help of his Russian friends, Scotty was named a Fulbright scholar to the University of Leningrad. A Fulbright Scholarship is a United States government award for graduate study, research, teaching or professional training. Because the purpose of this program is to foster an international exchange of scholars, foreign scholars are also eligible to apply for these grants. Scotty plans to go to the Soviet Union in 1981. If this is not possible, he plans to go to Belize, formerly British Honduras, to look for new sites.

Richard Stockton MacNeish, reknown archaeologist, Fulbright scholar, and director of the Robert S. Peabody Foundation for Archaeology is an interesting yet unobtrusive member of the Andover community. But, if one is curious about what Scotty does, the Peabody museum is open to all from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. There is no admission charge.

Jane Shattuck, a resident of 265 High Plain Road, Andover is a senior at Phillips Academy and is planning to pursue a career in journalism.

SHAWSEEN PLAZA

Free Co

The Massachusetts Pike Authority announced to motorists that free coffee will be served at restaurants on the Pike over Christmas and New Year weekends.

Chairman Driscoll said, Johnson Co. operators at restaurants along the mile super highway will provide free coffee to promote safe driving.

The gesture is to remind motorists to take rest stops and can help keep drivers alert, thereby improving performance. All motorists in a hurry to arrive at their destination will become fatigued. A short pause along the highway will enhance safety. Certificates will be distributed at the toll which will allow motorists to be served coffee free of charge from 10 a.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 25, to 10 p.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 26, and 10 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 27, through Tuesday, Jan. 1.

Folk Music

Folk music will be the focus of the Essex Institute's Christmas series this year. On Thursday, Dec. 27, at 7 p.m., Tom Smith will present a music centered around the experiences of New England shoe workers more than a hundred years ago. The program will be songs of shoe craftsmen, from the Great Shoe of 1860, and a song "On the Road to Lynn" from the mid-19th century. The program will be widely acclaimed by folksinger throughout the Northeastern United States. Tom Smith will play and be accompanied by instruments such as guitar, mandolin, and harmonica.

This program is part of the series of events being sponsored by the Essex Institute in connection with the exhibition "Life and Times in Lynn: The Shoe Workers' Lynn." It takes place at the Essex Institute Museum, Salem, and admission is free. The event is supported by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Free Coffee

The Massachusetts Turnpike Authority has announced to motorists that free coffee will be served at restaurants on the turnpike over Christmas and New Year holiday weekends.

Chairman John T. Driscoll said, "Howard Johnson Company, operators of the restaurants along the 135 mile super highway, would provide free coffee to promote safe driving."

The gesture is intended to remind motorists that rest stops and coffee stops can help keep drivers alert, thereby improving driving performance. All too often motorists in a rush to arrive at their destination become fatigued and a pause along the turnpike will enhance safe travel. Certificates will be distributed at the toll plazas, which will allow motorists to be served coffee without charge from 10 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 25, through 7 a.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 26, and 10 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 31, through 7 a.m. Tuesday, Jan. 1.

Folk Music

Folk music will enliven the Essex Institute, 132 Essex St., Salem just after Christmas this year. On Thursday, Dec. 27, at 2:30 p.m., Tom Smith sings music centered around the experiences of North Shore shoe workers more than a hundred years ago. Included will be songs of early shoe craftsmen, music from the Great Shoe strike of 1860, and a song called "On the Road to Lynn" of the mid-19th century. A widely acclaimed folksinger throughout the Northeastern United States, Tom Smith will play and be accompanied by instruments such as the guitar, mandolin, banjo and harmonica.

This program is another in the series of special events being sponsored by the Essex Institute in connection with the exhibition, "Life and Times in Shoe City: The Shoe Workers of Lynn." It takes place at the Essex Institute Museum in Salem, and admission is free. The event is supported by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

The November Student of the Month awards were proudly presented to seventh grader Jenni Lewis for outstanding achievement in academic work and extra curricular activities; eighth grader Paul Kinsella for outstanding school service and to David Barron of the ninth grade for outstanding school service. The whole school is very proud of them and extends its congratulations.

In keeping with the holiday spirit, Last Thursday students from both East and West junior high schools went together by bus to the Haven to entertain the elderly.

Last Friday an assembly was held for the ninth graders at which Thomas Button and Gary Shapiro of the faculty presented a repertoire of popular songs on their guitars. This assembly was held by popular demand of the ninth graders.

The ninth grade football team held its annual banquet Friday to honor the players. A trophy was awarded to Greg Sacco for being voted the most valuable player.

East Junior High's debating team held a recent debate against West Junior High. The topic was "Capital Punishment." We are proud to announce that East won the debate. The team advisors are Louis Eiserman and Patrick Finnigan of our social studies department.

Andover High Notebook

By Renee Pruheau

It's another holiday season at AHS, but also the end of a decade.

There are some changes which the students of Andover, as well as teachers have observed. One of those changes which has become very disheartening is the rock. No longer is it the center of art. Anything which is written on it is done in the form of graffiti. The rock goes out in the 70's as a wash up. Maybe we will see its revival in the 80's.

Because of the lack of late buses X-period, which is a half hour period in the mornings, has become a monthly institution. During this time clubs may meet, speakers come in and seminars may be conducted. Heretofore X-period was only used during spring when school government elections are held.

St. Nick's Day

Bishop Nicholas was imprisoned for his faith and later sainted for working miracles. His day, Dec. 6, was blended with Christmas and the myth of Santa Claus.

Even the holiday traditions are changing. The AFS clubs, besides selling their customary wreaths, are selling Christmas cards and stationery. The Pep Club is selling red and white carnations, usually a Valentine tradition. The Business Club is selling grab bags which promise to be full of breath-taking goodies.

Some things never change, that cliché is so true. Lockers are still decorated with candies and other sweets, as students try to guess who their Kris Kingle is that is leaving all the little presents.

The music groups, especially the Madrigals, are giving concert after concert, all over creation.

An expectancy and restlessness are also in the air as everyone awaits vacation.

And so, with its few changes, but even stronger traditions, Andover High finishes the decade still standing tall, still solid, and still ready to show the cynics what a truly great school it is.

Here's wishing all a happy holiday season and a joyful New Year.

WESTern Roundup

By Tricia Gannon

West Junior High has been very busy preparing for the holiday season. On Dec. 11, Keith Gould conducted the annual Christmas Concert which was also performed for the school this past Tuesday. Today the ninth grade English Curriculum Heights Opportunity (ECHO) class gave a holiday gift to the school by presenting a concert to ninth grade students. The concert consisted of these solos: Paul Yanalfo, piano, Lillian Wang, piano, Tom Kannam, piano, Theresa Duffy, guitar, Dana Atwood, drums, and Donna O'Brien, dance.

Progress reports were given out last Friday to mark the half way point of the second term.

WJH's 9th grade boys basketball team was victorious in their first game, Dec. 11. The team, coached by George Sullivan, played against arch-rival East Junior High. With a winning score of 62-41, West proved once again to be the best.

The eighth grade basketball team also proved to be successful over East Junior High. Coached by Arthur Nichols, they trounced East on Friday.

Captains Connie Corkery, Allison Hill, and Anne Maher, are leading the girls basketball team to what is hoped to be a very successful season. Their first game was Tuesday against Tewksbury where very good teamwork, individual ability and sportsmanship were displayed.

Tomorrow is the beginning of the joyous holiday break. The students and staff at WJH extend their best wishes for a safe and happy holiday and a successful New Year. Seasons Greetings!

Complete with animals and costumes, this outdoor Christmas pageant will be held on the farm of Dr. and Mrs. Otis Maxfield, 111 Reservation Road, Andover. Dr. Maxfield is the Senior Pastor of West Parish Church. Written by Kent Schroeder, co-chairman, the narration is based on the Gospel story according to Matthew and includes not only the visit of the shepherds and the Wisemen but also of the littlest angel and the little drummer boy.

Leader: Thus says the Lord God,

People: My sheep were scattered, they wandered over all the mountains and on every high hill;

Leader: My sheep were scattered over all the face of the earth, with none to search or seek for them.

People: And Jesus . . . saw a great throng, and he had compassion on them. . .

Leader: . . . because they were like sheep without a shepherd.

People: All we like sheep have gone astray . . .

Leader: . . . we have turned everyone to his own way.

People: Give ear, O Shepherd of Israel . . . restore us, O God.

Leader: Jesus said . . . I am the good shepherd.

People: The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep.

Leader: He will feed his flock like a shepherd . . .

People: . . . he will gather the lambs in his arms . . .

Leader: . . . he will carry them in his bosom . . .

People: . . . and gently lead those that are with young.

Leader: Jesus said . . . I am the good shepherd; I know my own and my own know me.

People: The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.

Leader: Jesus said . . . I have other sheep, that are not of this fold; I must bring them also, and they will heed my voice.

People: So there shall be one flock, one shepherd.

Leader: Now may the God of peace who brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, the great shepherd of the sheep, by the blood of the eternal covenant, equip you with everything good that you may do his will, working in you that which is pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ; to whom be glory for ever and ever.

People: Amen.

Christmas Cards

Written Christmas greetings date back to the early 1300's when English schoolboys penned holiday letters to their parents as an exercise. Then, in 1846, too busy to write his usual Christmas letters, Sir Henry Copley sent out printed cards, the first of billions now sent out all over the world.

Former Town Clerk Dies Suddenly

Retired Town Clerk Irving O. Piper, 80, 29 Canterbury St., Andover, died suddenly Monday at Lawrence General hospital.

Mr. Piper, who instituted the punch card voting in Andover, retired as town clerk ten years ago after serving for several years in the capacity.

Following retirement he continued to assist with the election process, serving at the polls in varying capacities for the past decade.

It was through his efforts that the town went to the more rapid election process, utilizing punch cards which are tabulated through computer. The process not only has speeded results of elections, but has represented a savings to the town. Prior to his municipal appointment, Mr. Piper was paymaster and comptroller for the American Woolen Co. He was a member and past treasurer of West Parish church. Mr. Piper also was a member and past patron of Andover Chapter 187, Order of Eastern Star, member of St. Matthew's Lodge, A.F. and A.M. of Andover, and a director of the Andover Home for the Aged.

Born in Methuen, he was a long-time resident of Andover, graduating from Andover public schools and Pynchard High school. He was also a graduate of the former McIntosh Business school, Lawrence.

He is survived by his wife, Gladys M. (Greene); a niece, Mrs. Barbara Davis of Lake City, Fla.; two nephews, Leslie Dunham of New Mexico and Frank Dunham of Fall River.

Funeral services will be held today at 2 p.m. in West Parish church. Burial will be in Spring Grove cemetery, Andover.

The town office building committee appointed under an article adopted the last town meeting to prepare preliminary plans and estimates for a new town office building 100 to 105 feet wide located on the site of the old Shaw property on Main Street.

The school building committee Monday night voted to recommend to the town meeting next March the construction of a three-year high school on the Esther Smith property on Shawsheen Road. According to present plans, the building would house 750 students and be expandable for future growth.

The Bradlee School Christs party will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 22 at 10:30 a.m.

Miss Louise Sherman, a first-grade teacher at Shawsheen School won a cash prize from "Instructor Magazine" travel contest for her article "Between English Hedgerows."

The noon lunch hour at the Central Elementary School has been shortened 15 minutes which will make the afternoon closing hour 3 o'clock instead of 3:15.

Trustees of Memorial Hall Library are having plans made for proposed additions to the present buildings which would give greater facilities for service to the townspeople. Cost figures for the proposed addition were scheduled for presentation at spring town meeting.

The school committee at a special meeting Monday adopted a $599,992 budget for 1955 and also voted to adopt a proposed new salary schedule for teachers effective April 4, 1955.

About ten inches of snow fell here Tuesday.

Selectman Sidney P. White has asked for a complete study of the town hall, and whether to renovate it or plan for a new one with the fund of $500,000 set aside for a new structure a few years ago.

Everything was unanimous Tuesday night at the school committee when John Coyle was elected principal of South School

P.A. Drive Nearing Goal

Pledges Arrive

Mrs. Marshall Field (center), Andover area chairman for PA's Bicentennial Campaign, and PA's George Edmonds help PA Gift Recorder Wendy O'Donohue with sheaves of new pledges.

Phillips Academy is being flooded with cards this season, but not Christmas cards, strictly speaking. They are pledge cards sent by Phillips and Abbot Academy alumni, parents and friends to the school's Bicentennial Campaign in its last stretch, in hopes of meeting the campaign's ambitious goal of $50,610,000. More than 700 pledges came in last week, and Monday's mail brought another record batch.

The campaign deadline is midnight on Dec. 31.

Ten days from that deadline, no one can know precisely how close the campaign is to its goal, because the gift recording system now can't keep up with the daily flow of gifts. At the end of last week, PA's Campaign was within $2.7 million of goal in new pledges, which would earn $1.35 million for the campaign from a one-for-two matching Challenge Fund to top the $50 million mark. Gifts continue to come in from the grass roots of 116 national committee areas across the country. So the suspense is real.

Campaign leaders do know that the Andover campaign area leads all 116 national committee areas in both dollars raised and number of participants. Local alumni and parent volunteers, organized by Abbot alumna Sue Wholey Field and PA alumnus Atty. Andrew Shea under the Merrimack Valley regional leadership of alumnus Dean Webster, have raised $300,678 in individual gifts and challenge funds. This is more than twice their area goal. Their aim now is for Andover to lead all areas in percentage of participants in the final push. In addition, Merrimack Valley businesses have raised $110,000 in support of the campaign, under the leadership of alumnus A. Leroy Bolton.

Campaign Director Frederick A. Stott eyes the campaign's chances optimistically, as it comes down to the wire: "It's perfectly apparent that this Campaign can be won if — but only if — everyone who has respect for Andover makes a stretching pledge by Dec. 31. Winning this Campaign not only will carry Andover's 200-year-old tradition of being 'ever equally open to Youth, of requisite qualifications, from every quarter,' well into its third century, but it will set a new standard in American educational philanthropy."

Alumna Sue Field, helping Gift Recorder Wendy O'Donohue on Monday, reminisced: "When we were first organizing this campaign here more than two years ago, it was uphill work, with the goal so far away. But the end is the fun part, when the goal is reachable and everyone joins in to put it over the top".

Business Is Good In Downtown Area

Christmas sales in town are generally up and improving, local merchants said this week, with an emphasis being placed on warmth.

This year shoppers are buying the clothes and hardware necessary to stay warm when thermostats are turned low.

At Scanlon's Hardware, where business was reported "a little better than last year," Phyllis Smith said that fireplace tools, log carriers and screens are selling well in their basement housewares department. Upstairs in their general hardware department, Bob Reddish pointed to weather stripping as a big seller, "though not for Christmas presents."

Warmer clothing is also popular this year. Jackie Rashid, assistant manager of Russem's, said, "We're selling a lot of long winter nightgowns, robes and heavy slippers, everything that spells out warmth." Yankee Lady's owner Marion Carpentier concurred. Her biggest sales were in "warm clothes, warm sweaters, warm skirts." Evening wear was also popular, Carpentier said, with "a lot of dressess for people going to Christmas parties" being sold.

Feet First was selling more boots, according to Mark Sinkinson. He said everything from work boots to dress boots were moving, with weather being a determining factor in the sales. "The colder weather helps," Sinkinson said, "That's what makes it quite lively around here."

The colder weather is also helping out the Sports Shop, according to Charlie Heseltine. Ski outfits are particularly popular, he said, as well as running shoes which many persons use all year round.

Other items selling well around town were electronic games and power snowshovels, said R. Milton Cole of Cole's Hardware. Some of the games are "almost impossible to get," he said. And the electric power snowshovel, which weighs only 12 pounds, is a new item which seems to have caught on.

As for Christmas business in general, Cole called it "very, very good, excellent, outstanding."

"Why it's better than what you'd expect from the normal course of events," Cole said. "It has to be people are not making as many trips to the shopping centers."

John Zenevitch of Macartney's expressed the same theory. "I feel that people are doing more shopping in town," he said, "not taking the car over to the mall." He added that more personalized service in downtown stores might help, too. Zenevitch reported business volume up, with warm clothing being Macartney's front-runner.

At the Andover Bookstore, Ethel Cross said business was as good as last year. "Buying is a little bit more careful," she said, "but I think the traffic is about the same."

Her opinion fit in with all the other merchants who were asked. All indicated sales were strong and getting stronger as Christmas approached, and were stronger than last year at this time.

The busiest time for the stores seemed to be the weekends, with more than one store reporting last weekend's sales as "excellent."

Christmas Rush Not The Same

The crunch was on at Andover Post Office this week, as Monday's incoming mail amounted to four to five times the usual.

Supervisor Jack O'Brien said the local branch sorted and delivered 96,971 pieces of flat mail and 1069 parcels Monday. That's double the amount of a couple weeks ago, he said, indicating that people have been in no rush to get their mail out early.

Monday was the biggest day so far, he said, and probably would be the biggest day overall.

Outgoing mail has been heavy, O'Brien said, but he had no comparisons since the letters and parcels brought to the Andover Post Office are simply put into bags and taken to Woburn for processing.

He did say that out-going parcels were starting to slow down, while cards seem to have come in later this year. In 1978, O'Brien said, cards were "spread out pretty good."

To cope with the Christmas onslaught, the post office added a third full-time window clerk for the past week. Generally a third window is open only as needed, a practice they expected to return to today or tomorrow.

Despite the crowds, revenue from stamps and packages is down about 15 percent — even though the price of stamps and parcel post is the same as 1978.

O'Brien said the window clerks have been calling for 10-cent stamps, indicating that a lot of people may be mailing the post card variety of holiday greetings this year.

Christmas

"It's beginning to look a lot like Christmas," the seasonal tune proclaims, and, indeed it is.

The crescendo builds rapidly as the final days pass by leading up to the most joyous of holidays — Christmas.

In the downtown area, shoppers pursue their last minute errands, in the schools pageantry and song note the season, in the churches preparations to proclaim the joyousness of the Holy Birth proceed toward Sunday and Christmas day observances.

While there is a spirit of joy accompanying the celebration of the Birth of the Prince of Peace, it is tempered somewhat by our national concern — the safe release of the 50 hostages held in Iran.

Our concerns, of course, serve to point out our need to reflect on the true meaning of this Christmas season — the birth of the child, sent to redeem mankind, and to produce love and brotherhood throughout the world.

We struggle continually toward that goal, failing through our own human weakness.

It is at this time of the year, that our thoughts and actions are directed toward that peaceful, joyous scene in Bethlehem centuries ago.

There is the sharing and remembering through the exchange of gifts. There is the concern expressed through the giving to insure that those less fortunate are remembered at this season of the year.

There is the unity exemplified in family gatherings.

And there are the glorious sounds of the season as we gather in houses of worship to commemorate the birth of the Christ child.

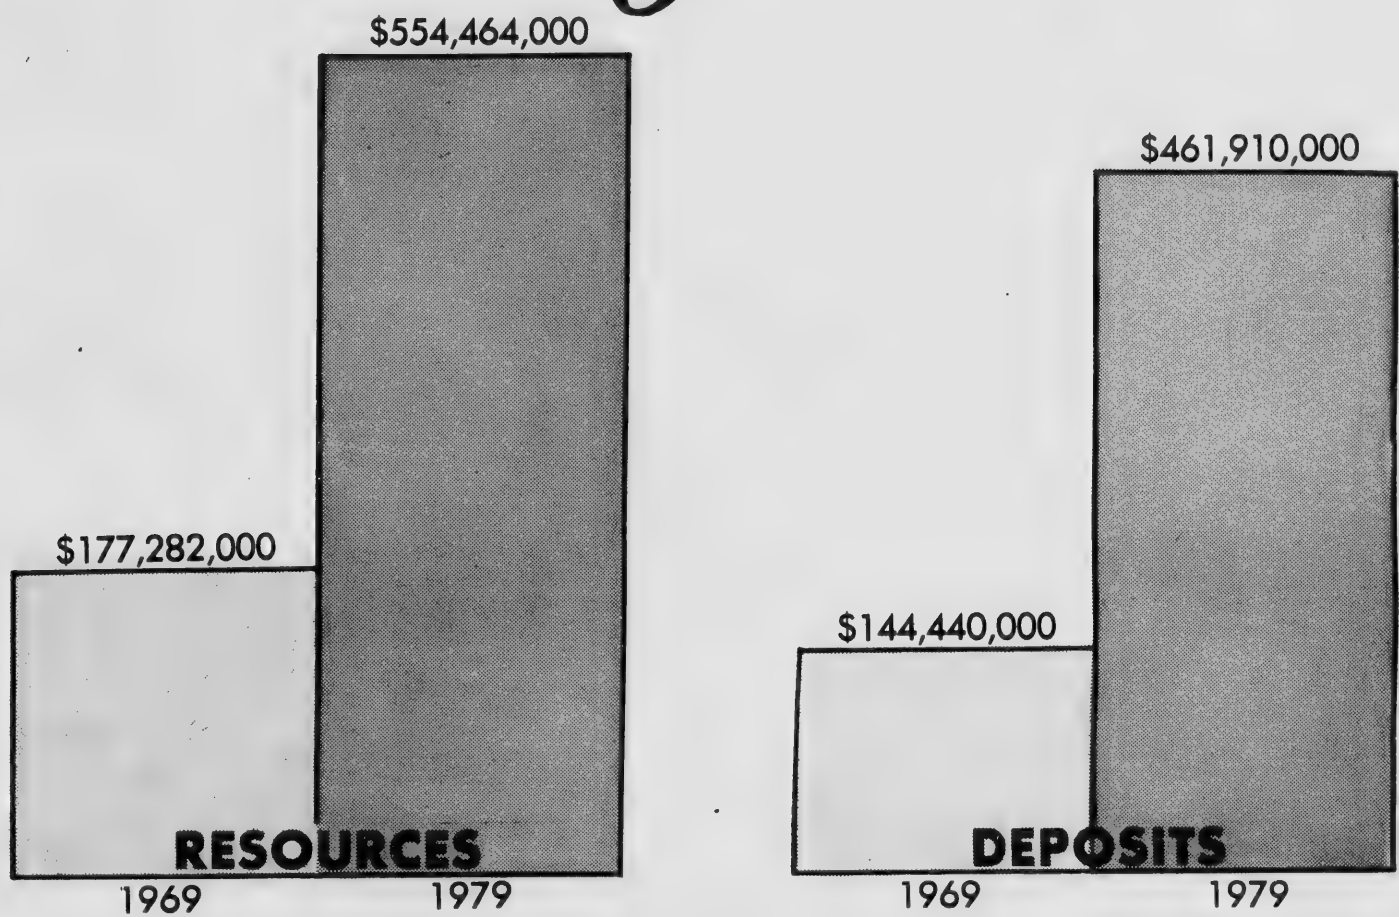

Christmas provides us with the time to once again dedicate ourselves to those principles of peace, brotherhood and love, so vividly exemplified in the scene at Bethlehem.

The season of peace and hope is upon us again and we join in the happy, joyful sounds of the season, with the desire that this spirit prevail throughout the year.

As we prepare to celebrate the season, let us prayerfully remember those Americans held against their will in Iran and their families — that they will soon be together again in this land blessed with freedom.

And, as the Christmas day approaches, it is our fervent wish that the spirit of the season depicted in the Nativity scene, will become the inspiration for us all to one day be able to truly proclaim, "peace on earth, good will to all mankind."

Bishop Charged with War Crimes
May Face Deportation from U.S.By Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON -- With the willness of a Rasputin, a notorious Nazi war criminal now garbed in a bishop's vestments has wormed his way into the good graces of Jimmy Carter's White House. Presidential aide Paul Henze recently championed the cause of Valerian Trifa, who oversees the Romanian-American Orthodox Church bishopric in the Detroit area and is desperately trying to avoid being thrown out of the country.

Perhaps unwittingly, Henze, who helps make policy for the prestigious National Security Council, became a devil's advocate for a man accused in sworn testimony of having been personally responsible for the deaths of 4,000 Romanian Jews in the holocaust. As a member of the infamous fascist Iron Guard in Bucharest, Trifa has been identified as having led an execution squad into a cell of helpless Jews in 1941.

After serving Hitler's cause to the end, the one-time theological student and preacher of anti-Semitism weaseled his way into the United States as a displaced person seeking refuge in the land of the free.

We first caught the stench of Trifa's malodorous past when he delivered the opening prayer for the U.S. Senate in 1955. We disclosed that he had been tried in absentia by the Romanian government and given a life sentence for his crimes.

The bishop had obtained his citizenship by lying about his background upon entry into this country. Yet his strongly anti-communist views prevented his being brought to book by immigration authorities.

Last May, we revealed that Trifa had used his church credentials to appear on a Radio Free Europe program beamed behind the Iron Curtain. At Carter's direction, the Justice Department began compiling a case for denaturalizing and deporting the bishop on grounds of his war criminal past.

At an ensuing closed meeting of the Board for International Broadcasting, which supervises Radio Free Europe, the Trifa episode became a topic of hot debate. According to insiders at the secret session, Henze, as the White House emissary, scoffed at the uproar as "silly" and said Trifa's appearance on the government-backed broadcast "certainly isn't serious from the point of view of the White House."

Then to emphasize that the accused mass murderer had found political sanctuary in the re-election-bent Carter administration, Henze added: "Let me state the White House position on this issue. Bishop Trifa, as an American citizen, represents an important ethnic group."

His blatant political ploy infuriated New York Rep. Elizabeth Holtzmann who fired off a letter to Carter and demanded that Henze be fired.

MORE MIDDLE EAST TROUBLE: The portents of the witches' cauldron that boiled over in Iran may soon prove just as ominous in Egypt. Our Middle East sources are fearful that President Anwar Sadat's regime is facing serious trouble, perhaps as early as February.

They point out that the Egyptians are in danger of food shortages, high unemployment and spreading poverty -- the same ingredients that brought about the overthrow of the shah and the rule of King Mob in Iran. Rumors of graft and corruption within Sadat's inner circle are also being tossed into the explosive brew.

Some army officers, our sources report, are disenchanted with Sadat's peace approaches to Israel. A sympathetic alliance between left-wing radicals and right-wing Moslem minorities in Egypt is taking shape. Sadat lacks support from neighboring Arab nations because of his willingness to seek peace with Menachem Begin.

Begin has quietly urged President Carter to speed up economic help to Sadat's regime prior to February when Egypt and Israel are expected to establish formal diplomatic relations. That could be the psychological flash point for the turbulence in Egypt.

FREE DEGREES: Thousands of college students have found a rich Uncle Sam to send them through school. A federal program provides them with long-term, low-interest loans to pay their way to a degree. In theory, the loans are supposed to be paid back, beginning nine months after a student graduates, but in practice thousands of recipients have defaulted on the obligation.

We've learned that the taxpayers are getting stuck for additional millions because of sheer inefficiency by the bureaucrats who administer the program.

In an average year, American colleges are winding up with about $63 million in federal funds that are never handed out to prospective students. Washington has never instructed the campus bursars what to do with the excess money they receive and how to return it.

Meanwhile, the government ends up paying approximately $4 million annually in interest charges on student loan money that never reaches the students. We, the taxpayers, are footing the bill.

Panthers, Bears, Leopards Win

Bears 26, Lions 17

The Bears of the AYBL Junior Division came up with a very good effort to down the Lions by a 26 to 17 score. The Lions broke out on top in the first period 6 to 2 with Chris Di Clemente getting four quick points and Steve Mencis throwing in two.

Back came the Bears in the second period as the basket belonged to Scott Powers as he scored 10 of his team's 12 points during the eight minute stretch. Patrick Burns picked off the rebounds and Matt Dorsey played excellent defense during the period to put the Bears ahead at the half 14 to 10.

The first half was highlighted by the smart floor play of Rajiv Sheel and the rebounding of Jon Daly of the Lions. Patrick Burns continued to rebound and score in the second half for the Bears as they pulled ahead by a 24 to 13 lead after three periods. John Twoomey scored a 2 pointer in the fourth and Lisa Horgan got most of the important rebounds for the Lions, but it was too much of a lead by the Bears.

Panthers 18, Tigers 16

The sharp shooting of Steven Redgate and the floor play of Jack Dalton put the Panthers ahead 8 to 5 in the first half of their 18 to 16 win over the Tigers. During the second half the scoring was provided by David Vickers and the rebounds were pulled down by David Seaman. Defensive standouts for the Panthers were Mike Biondo and Robert Stoltz. The Tigers featured overall scoring by Lance Kallifetz and Jim Hallice to get them closer in the second half after falling behind by as much as 8 points. Bobby Richardson with some very smart floor play and Geoff Bolan playing aggressive defense made the game very exciting right down to the final whistle.

Leopards 30, Cougars 21

Jim Flowers and Andy Lascher each scored 4 points in the first period to propel the fast starting Cougars into a 12 to 6 lead. In the second period it was all George Philipp as he got most of the rebounds and scored 2 points for the Leopards as they fought back to go into the half down 8 to 12. Despite the strong floor play of Mike Cincotta and rebounding of Kurt Burzlaff of the Cougars the Leopards continued to fight back as Eric Goodman scored two jump shots that were set up by nice passes from John Perry. During the fourth period John Perry chipped in with 8 points and Jeff Valcourt made an important steal to off-set very aggressive play by the Cougars Steve Myskowski and Bob Hughes to pull away in the last few minutes. Mike Myskowski played a good defensive game for the Cougars along with David Friedensan of the Leopards.

Seastars Win In Needham

Paced by two triple winners and seven double winners, the Andover-North Andover YMCA Seastars swam to wins in Class A and Class E in a dual meet with the Needham Y Neptunes Saturday.

Carol Robb and Jennifer Rubin posted three wins apiece to top Needham 30-0 in Class A. Robb scored firsts in the 200 and 500 yd. freestyle events and in the 200 yd. individual medley. Rubin won the 50 and 100 yd. freestyles and 100 yd. backstroke.

In Class B Jennifer Bottomley won the 100 yd. freestyle for the Seastars and placed second in the 100 yd. butterfly. Kate Inskeep was second in the 200 yd. freestyle and 100 yd. backstroke as was Andrea Matchett in the 500 yd. freestyle and 100 yd. breaststroke. Deanne Gianelly took second honors in the 50 yd. freestyle. Anne Costello took third twice for Andover in the 200 yd. individual medley and 100 yd. breaststroke. Ann Marie Grogan was third in the 100 yd. backstroke.

Dana Grogan, Karen Mackay and Carilyn Cronin all doubled in Class C. Grogan won the 50 yd. backstroke, Mackay the 50 yd. breaststroke and Cronin the 200 yd. individual medley. They teamed with Kristin Pascucci to win the 200 yd. medley relay. Grogan placed second in the 50 yd. butterfly, Mackay was second in the 200 yd. individual medley, Cronin took third in the 50 yd. butterfly and Pascucci was third in the 50 yd. freestyle for Andover. Kathy Rasche took second place points in the 50 yd. freestyle and was third in the 200 yd. freestyle as was Amy Driscoll in the 100 yd. freestyle and Jennifer Loyall in the 50 yd. breaststroke.

Alicia Policinski placed second in the 50 yd. backstroke and third in the 50 yd. butterfly for the Seastars in Class D. Krista Garney took two thirds in the 50 yd. breaststroke and 100 yd. freestyle. Also taking thirds were Sarah Macdonald in the 100 yd. individual medley and Johnna Boutin in the 50 yd. freestyle.

Andover's Class E swimmers each scored double wins to pace the Seastars to a 36-31 victory. Suzanne Gianelly won the 25 yd. backstroke and was second in the 25 yd. freestyle. Robin Palmer won the 25 yd. freestyle and was second in the 50 yd. freestyle. Kate Robb won the 25 yd. breaststroke and Amy Van Aken won the 25 yd. butterfly and was second in the 100 yd. individual medley. The four then joined forces to win the 100 yd. freestyle relay.

Villanova Tops Intermediate Loop

By Rick Harrison

After just two weeks of play, Villanova stands alone atop the Andover Youth Basketball League Intermediate Division standings with a 2-0 record.

The Wildcats trimmed Dartmouth 33-25 last week in action at West Junior High, while other games saw Harvard stop North Carolina State, 37-27, and Holy Cross nudge past Boston College, 22-20.

Villanova, 33-25

As it had done the previous week, Villanova broke the game open in the third quarter and then withstood a late comeback bid by the opposition.

The Wildcats inched ahead 5-4 in the first period, as Tom Lutz netted three points and Jon Yeserski added a bucket to offset four points by Mark Doherty of Dartmouth.

Lutz and John Terrion swished four points apiece in the second stanza, as Villanova increased its lead to 13-6 with less than a minute to play.

However, Danny Sheehan pumped in four points for Dartmouth in the closing seconds of the half to make it 13-10.

Mike Melia and Matt Ostrowski led the Wildcats' 13-2 third period blitz with five and four points respectively.

Dartmouth battled back in the final period, closing the gap to five points to pace the Big Green rally.

Tom Lutz fouled out with the score 28-19 and less than three minutes to play, but some clutch shooting by Mike Melia down the stretch insured the Cats' victory.

Lutz finished with 11 points and Melia had 10 for Villanova.

John Terrion and Matt Ostrowski added 4 points apiece, while Paul Valcourt and Yeserski had single baskets.

Jay Trepanier and John Nuzzo also played well for Villanova.

Danny Sheehan emerged as game-high scorer for Dartmouth with 12 points, Mark Doherty added 6, Robbie Pauline 4, Dan Feng 2 and Stu Leinson swished a free throw.

Joe Flosman, Tim Meehl and Eric Friendenson also played well.

Dartmouth hurt itself at the free throw line, hitting only 7-of-19 charities. Villanova connected on 5-of-8.

Harvard, 37-27

Despite a 12-4 second quarter outburst, the Crimson didn't put this game away for good until the fourth period.

North Carolina State, trailing 14-8 at halftime, closed to 21-17 entering the final stanza.

Tim Perry netted 10 points in the last quarter for Harvard, keying a 16-10 run that sewed up the victory.

The Wolfpack inched ahead 4-2 in the opening session, as Paul Oshan scored two buckets to offset one by Rich Bourdelais.

Perry heated up in the second quarter, however, pocketing 10 points as Harvard took the lead.

Mark Patti flipped in six third period markers for N.C. State, as the Wolfpack closed the gap slightly.

Tom Novelline added five points to Perry's 10 to power the Crimson in the final quarter.

Divisional scoring leader Perry finished with 24 points, Novelline netted 6, Bourdelais 3, Steve Colitz 2 and Dave Murchie 2.

Patti closed with 14 points for the Wolfpack, while Oshan stuffed 9, Jon Ruben 2 and Rob DiTroia 2 points.

Mike Morris, Bob Parnell and Tom Deleire also played well for N.C. State.

Holy Cross, 22-20

Holy Cross and Boston College went tooth-and-nail from beginning to end, as the score was tied 6-6 after one quarter, 10-10 at halftime and 14-14 after three periods.

The Crusaders finally pulled out the decision with an 8-6 fourth period advantage. Chris Comparato was the top scorer for HC with 10 points, Lisa Marcella and Rich Napolitano chipped in four markers apiece, and single baskets were contributed by Kevin Bardsley and Scott Kelly.

Dave Doyle and Bardsley were defensive standouts, Lisa Marcella was strong off both boards, and Russ Lamontagne played a fine all-around game for the winners.

Joe Hart was practically the entire show for Boston College, pouring through a game-high 18 points with most of them on rebounds.

Charlie Lowe notched the other Eagles' bucket, and defensive leaders for BC were Mike Burke and Lydia Wise.

Both teams were minus one player, with Steve Gemmell sidelined for Holy Cross and Mark Needham for BC.

THE TOWNSMAN, DECEMBER 20, 1979

Wilmington League

Andover 3, Wakefield 2

The Squirt A's, under Coaches Fran Ferrara and Steve Cooper, continued to show steady improvement by beating a rough Wakefield team. Andover opened the scoring with two goals only 19 seconds apart near the end of the first period, marked by 4 Wakefield penalties. Kyle McCabe notched the first score, assisted by Pat Breen and Brent Raftery. Then Breen scored, assisted by McCabe.

Wakefield came back in the second period to score on a power play, during one of two Andover penalties.

Both teams skated an exceptionally strong period with almost continuous up and down action, and exciting offense and defense at both ends. Steve Donovan and Mark Neave, along with forwards Chris Sapuppo and Bob Stoltz provided several scoring opportunities, and backchecked effectively on defense. Strong defense was provided by Mark Berberian along with Matt Young and Peter Trede and Dan Reddiford, and goalie Jim Berberian continued to come up with big saves when needed.

Wakefield pulled even with a score midway through the third period. But with less than two minutes left, Neaves got a loose puck to McCabe who broke in around a lone defenseman and drove home a neat wrist shot for the winning score.

Pee Wee "B"

Andover 4 North Reading 4

Andover and North Reading played to a tie in Wilmington on Saturday morning. Ronnie Forbes opened the scoring for Andover in the first period, converting a nice pass from Sandy MacNeish. North Reading scored twice before Timmy

Donovan followed up a David Young shot to tie the game at 2 just before the end of the period. North Reading took the lead again in the second period, but Jeff McNeil scored to tie it at 3. Assists on the goal went to McNeil's linemates Paul Fuchs and Mark Paskowsky. North Reading scored less than a minute into the third period to regain the lead but McNeil scored again at the seven minute mark, banging in the rebound of a Paskowsky shot. Andover controlled play for the rest of the third period with defensemen Matt Shine and Jimmy Burgess each getting good shots on net from the point. Brian Gibson foiled a late North Reading rush with the aid of Tom Herling, earning a well deserved tie for goalies David Barry and Ken Young.

St. Augustine B, 29-23

Tim Reilly and vastly-improved Rich Sullivan combined for 22 points, as St. Augustine B used an 8-2 second quarter point spread as the key to its 29-23 victory.

St. Augustine C inched in front 3-2 after one period, but the B-crew grabbed a 10-5 halftime lead and held an 18-15 edge after three periods.

Reilly finished as game-high marksman with 14 points, including six in the final stanza, while Sullivan scored 8 points, Peter Zompa six and Dan Beckerman one.

Mike Powers and Andy Zompa contributed strong defensive games.

Joe Hart led the counterattack with 12 points for the C-team, 10 of them in the second half.

Chris Morrison notched a pair of third quarter baskets, Paul Sheedy scored 3 points, Keith Driscoll 2 and Tim Scanlon 2.

St. Robert's A, 38-30

St. Robert's A, led by several up-the-middle drives from Mike Melia in the fourth quarter, rallied to overcome St. Augustine D in an excellent game.

The contest was close from the opening tap to the final few minutes. St. Robert's took an 8-6 first quarter lead, clung to a 20-18 advantage at halftime, and led 26-24 after three periods.

St. Augustine delivered the first two baskets of the fourth stanza to grab a brief 28-26 edge, but Melia took control at this point by netting four driving lay-ups to seal the St. Robert's win.

Melia led all scorers with 20 points, Chris Smith chipped in 10, Brian Molloy 4, John William 2 and Sara Michelle Sapuppo 2.

Charlie Sheehan also had a big hand in the triumph with his fine passing.

Chris Bartley, with some sharp outside shooting, led the St. Augustine attack with

Four Teams Still Perfect

THE TOWNSMAN, DECEMBER 20, 1979

By Rick Harrison

West Parish B, Christ Church B, Baptist and South all stayed perfect in the Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate "Blue" Division last week, as the quartet chalked up their second victories of the young season.

West B dumped St. Augustine F, 27-15, Christ B raced past Christ A, 32-14, Baptist dropped Ballardvale United B, 14-6, and South popped St. Robert's D, 26-11.

In other Blue games, St. Augustine E nudged West Parish C, 19-18, and St. Robert's E stopped Ballardvale United A, 19-6.

West Parish B, 27-15

Divisional scoring leader Tim Boudreau, a 10-year-old guard, poured through 18 points to power West B to its second win.

The victors never trailed, grabbing a 5-2 first quarter lead and stretching it to 14-8 at halftime.

An 11-0 third quarter burst, sparked by Boudreau's five markers, iced the decision.

Robbie Barnard chipped in 4 points, Austin Henderson 3 and Heather Paro 2 points for the West crew.

Also playing well were Nick Bates, Robbie Thompson, Tony Andon and Dave Desmaris.

Chris Boyle tossed in 6 points for St. Augustine F, Jeff Smith scored 4, Drew Dunn 2, Ray Rourke 2 and Matt Geiger one free throw.

Bill O'Brien and Brian Costello were other standouts.

Christ Church B, 32-14

Christ B took a 6-0 first quarter lead, but the victors didn't really break the game open until the fourth quarter when Steve Blair sparked a 12-2 run with six points.

Blair finished as game-high marksman with 12 points, Glenn Livermore netted 8, Roger Fisk 6, Eric Anderson 4 and Nancy Rogers 2.

Beau Jones powered the Christ A attack with 6 points while Andy Frost, John Beardsley, Chris Scott and Andy Grant all chipped in single baskets.

Christ A played the contest without high-scoring Bob Beanland.

South, 26-11

South, featuring a balanced scoring attack, inched ahead 8-6 at halftime before settling the issue with a 14-1 explosion in the third quarter.

Phil Stocking led seven South players with 6 points while Rob Hendrie, Scott Lattanzio, Jeff Penner and Scotty Wilkins popped in 4 points each.

Rob Carpenter canned a first period basket and John Todt added a third period fieldgoal for South.

Warriors At Garden

The Merrimack College hockey team, a strong contender for both E.C.A.C. and N.C.A.A. Division II crowns this season, will make its second appearance ever on Boston Garden ice when it lines-up Monday, Jan. 7 against Bowdoin College in the opener (6:15 p.m.) of the First Annual Teapot Tournament. The second game (9 p.m.) will match defending N.C.A.A. Division II champ Lowell University against always-tough Salem State. The consolation and championship games will be played, respectively at 6:15 and 9 p.m. on Jan. 14 at the Garden.

Steve Kirkland and Dave Wade added fine all-around efforts.

Steve Rockwell paced the St. Robert's D performance with 6 points, Steve Rikeman notched 4 markers, and Greg Tormey swished a fourth quarter charity toss.

Jennifer Morris, Eileen Murphy, Chris Koch and Rick Tesman also played well.

Baptist, 14-6

Dave Hughes pocketed all eight of his points in the first half, then played a strong defensive game in the second half to boost Baptist past stubborn Ballardvale United B.

Craig Sorrie chipped in 4 points, including the only Baptist bucket in the last two periods, while Jeff Ashworth added a fieldgoal.

Greg Mattes, Steve Letch and Dennis Gallant were other stalwarts for the winners.

The only BU buckets were scored by Glenn McLeod, Steve Sarcione and Tom Darling.

Dave Baker, who poured through 14 points in the BU opener, was held scoreless by Baptist.

Fran Robinson was a defensive standout for United, while Darling did a good job off the boards.

St. Augustine E, 19-18

This contest was tight from the opening tap to the final horn, with St. Augustine E maintaining leads of 2-0 after one quarter and 10-8 after three periods.

West Parish C hung tough in the seesaw fourth stanza, but the combined efforts of Greg Kinsky, Joe Hurley and John Moosa were enough to pull out the victory.

Kinsky and Dave Rourke led the St. Augustine E offense with 4 points apiece, Kinsky dunking two baskets in the crucial final period.

Joe Hurley delivered his 3 points in the St. Robert's E bolted to an 8-2 first quarter lead and was never seriously threatened thereafter by Ballardvale United A.

Larry Middleton and Chris Sapuppo chipped in first half baskets for St. Robert's, S. J. Durso swished a second quarter free throw, and fine all-around performances came from Sean Melia and Jim Astbury.

Arching through single baskets for BU were Dave Bean, Greg Baker and John McIntyre.

A Singular School: Abbot Academy, 1828-1973

Weaving Abbot And Andover

By Anne M. O'Brien

Abbot Academy is an important part of the history of education in Andover and in this book, "A Singular School: Abbot Academy, 1828-1973," the author, Susan McIntosh Lloyd describes the life of the school in a warm and engrossing manner. It is the "biography" of one of New England's first educational institutions.

The author chronicles the history of Abbot, interweaving the historical changes in America and how these continuously affected the educational philosophy of the school. The narrative emphasizes the role of women in American education. Material for the book was gathered from a variety of sources including scrapbooks, student notebooks and letters and interviews with alumnae. These sources add much appeal to the book.

The author, Susan McIntosh Lloyd, taught at Abbot Academy from 1968-1973 and is presently on the faculty of Phillips Academy. Her husband is a professor at Phillips. The relationship she has with both schools adds much to the telling of this history especially the description of the years of decision on the merger of the two academies.

Lifelong residents of Andover will thoroughly enjoy this "biography" for it includes well-known Andover names and events such as the establishment of Pynchard High School in the town. Newer residents to Andover will find this history a valuable record of Andover's past and the community's continuing leadership in education in New England.

Anne M. O'Brien is head of circulation at Memorial Hall library, Andover.

View Of Chesapeake Bay

Watermen by Randall S. Pepper. Johns Hopkins University Press. $12.95

By Samuel Simons

Randall S. Pepper, who teaches writing and literature at Phillips Academy, has written an extraordinary account of the lives of the people who dredge and fish for oysters, eels, crabs, clams and fin fish in Chesapeake Bay.

Although the subject is not everyone's cup of tea, this reviewer confesses that he became more and more absorbed in the difficult and rough lifestyle that has been the lot of the watermen of Maryland's Eastern Shore for over 300 years.

Working there as a novice, Pepper writes with deftness and humor of his experiences, and he makes skillful use of the device of dialogue to describe the action. Much of the conversation he records is salty and, at times, tedious and incomprehensible to the layman, but it is an effective way of catching the rhythms in the speech of the fisherman.

There are two outstanding sketches, one of a group of gluttonous "sportsmen" who catch 140 bluefish in one day's excursion, the other of the death of a young waterman in the cold waters of Chesapeake Bay. Despite the specialized material, we believe that the average reader will enjoy this book, if only for its wit and style.

A final note: It should be pointed out that a certain amount of confusion is bound to arise over the fact that the book reviewed here, 'Watermen' by Randall S. Pepper, has been issued almost simultaneously with another book, 'The Watermen,' which is a group of selections from 'Chesapeake' by James Michener.

Samuel Simons is reference librarian at Memorial Hall library, Andover.

Vacation Week Programs At Museum Of Science

Activities at Boston's Museum of Science during Christmas vacation week range from the traditional holiday program in the Planetarium to a new program, Commotion in Motion, in the Cahners Theatre.

The special programs begin Wednesday, Dec. 26. The Museum is closed Dec. 24 and 25.

The Planetarium program is presented at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. daily through Dec. 31 (Mon., Dec. 31 at 11 a.m. only).

Children under five are not admitted. With music, simulated stars and other celestial objects, the program traces the origin of many holiday customs and traditions to astronomical events. It includes a view of Santa's elves at the North Pole and of a typical New England village in the snow. The fee is 50¢ above Museum admission.

The Planetarium program to which children under five are admitted, The Winter Wishing Star, is given Dec. 26 at 4 p.m. only. This tale of adventure in the skies features the North Star, Fairy, Blue Bluster, and Old Man Moon. Those under five are admitted free; others pay the regular Planetarium admission fee.

Commotion in Motion is a lively dramatization of scientists and scientific breakthroughs that have been significant in advancing knowledge of natural laws. A leaning Tower of Pisa, laser beam, water clock, and other unusual, custom-built devices demonstrate these discoveries. The free program is given Dec. 23 and Dec. 26 through 30 at 12 noon and 2 p.m.

The Arthur D. Little Discovery Room, designed especially for ages 4 to 9, is open Dec. 26 through 30 from 1 to 4 p.m. and also from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on Dec. 29.

Parents and their children are invited to visit the room to explore a wide assortment of science objects, from animal skulls to magnets and funhouse mirrors.

The latest temporary exhibits are: Dreamstage: A Portrait of the Sleeping Brain, displaying an individual and cat sleeping naturally, as well as reports on sleep research; Ink and Wood-Forms in Nature, drawings and sculpture Nancy Webb and John M. Garger; Mount McKinley Portrait, photographs by Director Bradford Washburn; and Quartz Crystals, specimens from the Museum's collection.

Hours are: Wednesday through Saturday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Friday night to 10; Sunday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Parking is available. The Museum is at Science Park stop on the MBTA Green Line.

New Course

An exciting new course will be available to Boston area undergraduates in the spring semester. The course, "Into the Ocean World," is an interdisciplinary course introducing the many disciplines that touch on the sea — the marine sciences, maritime history, marine politics and economics, marine art and literature, etc. Team taught by experts in the sciences, social sciences, humanities and arts, the course is designed to highlight the sea's complexity and the far-reaching consequences of our interactions with it. Students will not become experts in any one aspect of marine study — rather, they will learn to interrelate the many perspectives required to understand the marine environment and to make decisions about the oceans.

To Honor Chief On Retirement

Police Chief David L. Nicoll will be honored Feb. 16, on his retirement following over 40 years service to the town, 26 as administrator of Andover's law enforcement agency.

A testimonial dinner is planned for the Sheraton Rolling Green beginning at 6:30 p.m.

An Andover native, Nicoll will be completing a career with the police department which began in 1937. He was named chief in 1953, having topped a civil service promotional examination with a mark of 99.4.

Named to the police department in 1937, he was promoted to sergeant in 1941. During World War II, Nicoll served in the U.S. Army as a lieutenant with the 841st AAA Bn.

Returning to the police department in 1945, he was assigned to the night platoon and in 1952 was appointed the town's civil defense director, in addition to his police duties.

His appointment as chief came in September of 1953.

Since becoming administrator of the department, Nicoll has taken several courses in law enforcement and administration and was the first Andover officer to graduate from the FBI academy in Washington, D.C. He has also served as an appointee to the Municipal Police Training Council.

He is a 1933 graduate of Pynchard High school, graduating as salutatorian and president of the class.

Reservations for the Feb. 16 testimonial may be obtained from Patrolmen Kevin Burke, Jack Milne, John Bernhardt, Sgt. Robert Parker or are available at the Andover police station.

Books Exhibit

Selected editions from a special collection of old, rare and unusual books are now on display in the main lobby of the McQuade Library at Merrimack College.

The general public is invited to view this unusual exhibit which is open, free of charge, during the holiday season.

Several volumes were selected for this particular presentment because of their relationship to the Augustinian Fathers, founders of Merrimack College; some are classics which are still read by Merrimack students; and all pay tribute to the art of printing and engraving.

Some people believed an owl in the house would protect the children.

The Pinata

Mexican children gather around the "pinata", a brightly decorated earthenware bowl resembling the face of an animal or humorous character and filled with candy, fruit, nuts and small gifts. They take turns trying to break the "pinata" with a stick, and when they do, they keep the treasures.

Wash Cold

Wash clothes in warm or cold water, rinse in cold. You'll save energy and money. Use hot water only if absolutely necessary.

For comfort in cooler indoor temperatures, use the best insulation of all — warm clothing. The human body gives off about 390 BTU's of heat per hour for a man, 330 for a woman. Dressing wisely can help you retain natural heat.

Black Birds Something To Crow About that over-population invariably produces.

Never ask what something is good for.

Sooner or later, an answer to that question, even though unasked, becomes apparent.

For instance, the crows in my neighborhood are valuable in keeping track of the local great horned owl. At seven to 10-day intervals, the crows either rouse the owl, or attempt to. If one is familiar with great horned owls, one appreciates the service. Despite its bulk and fierce appearance, a great horned owl perched on a high limb and snuggled against the trunk of a red pine is almost invisible. In fact, it is invisible until the crows point to it.

We shall not go into the matter of what a great horned owl is good for. The subject is crows, remember?

The value of crows became manifest again about two weeks ago as I drove along Route 2 in Charlestown, R.I. The racket by three crows called my attention to the magnificent red-tailed hawk that they were assaulting. Perhaps assaulting is too strong a word. They were hazing the hawk.

Undoubtedly one may take any living thing and after giving it more than cursory inspection discover that it quite different from what it has been stereotyped. The rule applies to animals as well as humans.

In my callow youth I supposed that crows were utterly malevolent. Among other things, black was not a preferred pigment in that clime. And crows were known to be wholly detrimental to man's endeavors. Their crimes ranged from such threats to our survival as pulling young sprouts in the cornfield that were to furnish our cash crop to spiriting away baby chicks and perhaps assaulting piglets. Crows were bad. In the same period, crows were completely rural birds. They also were shot at constantly and as a result what crows we had were exceptionally wary birds.

The word Yule, or "Jul" in Sweden, may come from an old work "Hjul," meaning "wheel." At this season the wheel of the old year turns over to the new.

In the southern New England environment, however, crows come off somewhat better. I am unable to credit them with hoeing corn nor performing other beneficial acts to make up for their past demerits. However, our way of living has changed.

We no longer raise chickens in open pens where they are vulnerable. Now I notice each spring when the crows gather in a bare but planted cornfield, they usually are searching for the eggs of kildeer. It may not be pleasant to watch a female kildeer perform a broken-wing act to distract the crow that is eating her eggs. Nor is there cheer in the crows' general attitude that as soon as they clean up all the eggs in the field, they will attend to all the kildeers that are flopping around on the ground as though their wings were broken. But the crow activity is not detrimental to man's interests. And there always are quite a few kildeers produced in the cornfield.

Possibly crows shield kildeers from the horror of conflicts and starvation

Annual Concert At Shawsheen

On Dec. 12 the Shawsheen School fifth and sixth grade glee club gave their annual concert. The program opened with "It's Christmas Time All Over the World," followed by "Are My Ears on Straight?" Brett Yannalfo played "Drummer Boy" as a piano solo. "Carol of the Bells," Ukrainian carol was next. The English carol, "As Joseph Was A-Walking" was followed by a small ensemble singing the spiritual "Little Bitty Baby." Debbie Cookson accompanied on the autoharp. Another English carol, "The Holly and the Ivy" was sung next. The program closed with "Thirty-two Feet and Eight Little Tails."

Following the glee club portion, the Shawsheen band performed several Christmas and folk tunes and concluded with "When the Saints Go Marching In."

Ring Dance

Early Christians performed a "ring dance" around a Nativity scene to tunes called "wiegenlieder," in German, "noel" in French and "carols" in English. In time, words were added to tell a story, and carol-singing has become one of the best-loved Christmas traditions.

Tame Moose

In Siberia, moose that have been raised and bottle-fed by people become very tame; at six months they can be trained to carry loads and pull carts, Mass. Audubon notes. A full-grown moose will carry 250 pounds on its back but will not tolerate a saddle. It is not frightened by the sound of airplanes and vehicles with running engines, and no stables are needed.

Some people thought they could create rain by throwing ashes into the air.

Changes In Bonds Announced

The Treasury Department today announced that the new Series EE savings bonds which go on sale effective January 1, 1980, will be called United States Energy Savings Bonds, Series EE, and will receive a ½ percent bonus if held to maturity.

The interest rate on U.S. Energy Savings Bonds, Series EE, will be increased from 6.5 percent to 7 percent for bonds held for the full 11 years to maturity.

Series E bonds that have not finally matured and U.S. Savings Notes ("Freedom Shares") will also receive the ½ percent bonus if they are held for 11 years from the date of the first semiannual interest period that begins on or after January 1, 1980. Bonds and notes redeemed earlier will not receive the bonus.

The redesignation of the bonds as Energy Savings Bonds is intended to help focus attention on the national goals of reducing energy consumption and increasing domestic supplies. The bonds were known as Defense Bonds before and after World War II and as War Bonds from 1941 to 1945 reflecting the national concerns of those times. The Energy Savings Bonds will assist in financing the large Federal energy expenditure required in the coming years.

After June 30, 1980, all U.S. Savings Bonds bought through payroll savings plans will be Energy Savings Bonds, Series EE. Series H and HH Savings Bonds will not be affected by these changes.

Singing As They Go

This group of riders from the horse barns on Argilla Road sang their way through the heart of town Tuesday, caroling for Christmas. The group included instructor Ellen O'Connor, Elizabeth Bainbridge, Toni Harris, Kim Lilly and Susan Lilly.

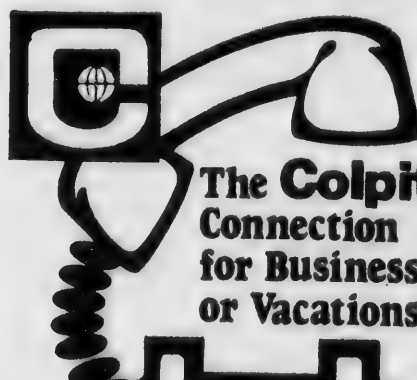

Linen Exhibit

"Contemporary Linen-Making," an exhibit of 30 items hand woven by members of the Weavers Guild of Boston is on view at The Museum of Our National Heritage, 33 Marrett Road, Lexington.

While linen-making was once an essential household task, the craft died out with the introduction of cotton and machine-made goods. Today, this craft has been revived by contemporary weavers who work in both traditional and modern adaptations. Contemporary linens in this exhibit can be compared with pieces made in the 17th through 19th centuries in the museum's major show, "Linen-Making in New England, 1640-1860" which is housed in an adjacent gallery.

The Weavers' Guild of Boston, founded in 1922, has a membership of over 800 men and women from all over the United States. Meetings of the Guild are held monthly in Auburndale. The Guild provides opportunities for study through workshops, lectures, publications, and contacts among weavers.

safety and I fear for my family."

"I hear you," school building committee member Frank Hill said. "But all things considered, I don't see a better choice."

The possible vandalism referred to by the resident included fire. "We're basically going to be sitting ducks," he said.

Hill responded that vandalism is a problem, but "a community problem—a building committee can't be expected to solve."

One mother asked why not convert Doherty to a middle school or junior high instead of South. Building committee member Virginia Cole answered that the additions to Doherty, plus use of East Junior High as something other than a school, would create as many or more traffic and parking problems than before. And, a middle school or junior high would require more fields which are currently inadequate and retain too much surface water.

Hill added that Doherty had been renovated five or six years ago, whereas South has not had major repairs since it was built. Renovations extended the projected life of Doherty, Hill said, and could do the same for South.

He added that the town meeting which funded the South School construction had gone for the cheapest design, which resulted in the school being "relative junk" compared to other school buildings.

Joanne Bastian, 131 Abbot St., asked if that meant the school would be razed and rebuilt. Hill said no. Bastian also questioned whether the average classroom size at South was large enough for a middle school or junior high.

Viehmman said yes, pointing out that the average size of a South classroom was 200 square feet greater than the average size of a high school classroom.

Other parents raised doubts about the accuracy of architects Perly F. Gilbert's cost estimates. One asked if transportation cost estimates had been figured for when gasoline sells for two dollars per gallon, road improvements and handicapped access alterations.

Representatives of the architectural firm were not present at the meeting.

Several parents expressed concern about the narrow and winding roads around the school, and questioned the safety of forcing some children to walk to school on them. One father said, "I for one do not want my child walking on Woburn Street to school." He called the street an access road for Route 125, and said employees of Lowell Junction firms travel it to and from work, making traffic heavy during the hours children would walk to and from the school.

Members of the public began to leave the meeting about 10:15 p.m., and Viehmman cut off comments from the floor at 10:45 p.m.

Fuel Loss

Less than 15 percent of the energy in a gallon of car fuel propels a car. The remainder is lost as heat, is used to overcome engine and transmission friction, or to power generators, air conditioners, and power brakes, Mass. Audubon says. Automatic transmissions use 10 percent more fuel than four-speed manual systems.

Options

for elimination of East Junior High as a school, and the conversion of an elementary school into a middle school or junior high. Sanborn, Doherty and South are candidates for that conversion.

Both schemes call for the eventual elimination of the Jackson and Stowe Schools and the power plant also on that site. Cost of the destruction of those buildings was not included in the cost estimates, according to Town Manager Jared S. A. Clark.

The 6-3-3 option calls for renovations to the high school including an auditorium, fine art rooms and equalized gym facilities for boys and girls, Clark said.

The 5-3-4 calls for an addition to accommodate an extra 400 students, and addition of an auditorium, fine art rooms and equalized gym facilities. Shawsheen School would be closed under the 5-3-4.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the large group room at Andover High School or in the auditorium of West Junior High, depending on the size of the turn-out.

'First a Friend . . . Then A Host'

A little too much "good cheer" could dampen your holiday spirits.

The Automobile Club of Merrimack Valley AAA wants local motorists who plan to celebrate the holidays with some traditional toasting to keep in mind that drinking and driving don't mix.

Since this season brings together family and friends at festive occasions, AAA hopes to help make every party a success . . . the morning after . . . through its annual "First a Friend . . . Then a Host" campaign.

The campaign is designed to remind hosts that their first responsibility is to see that guests — their friends — leave the party in a condition to make it home safely.

"It's no secret that accident rates increase during the holiday season," David J. Christensen, Executive Vice President said. "Statistics have shown that many traffic fatalities and injuries result through the carelessness of intoxicated drivers."

Through its "First a Friend . . . Then a Host" program, AAA suggests keeping the following tips in mind:

Hosts can mix the first drink for guests but should set up a self-service bar for the remainder of the party. Guests tend to make less potent drinks if they mix their own.

Non-alcoholic beverages should be provided along with other drinks.

It's unwise to pressure non-drinking partygoers to have "just one."

Party-givers do well to push food instead of drinks throughout the party. Providing a tempting and lavish display of rich and starchy snacks and main dishes can help guests slow down the absorption of alcohol into their bloodstream.

Even though they don't have to drive, hosts can set an example by not overindulging in alcohol.

Dancing, games and conversation will keep guests circulating and divert attention from the bar.

About an hour before the party ends is the time for plenty of good, hot coffee. It will not sober anyone up, but it's a good substitute for that "one for the road."

And what if there are tipsy guests at the end of the evening, despite all party planning? Tactfully arranging transportation home or letting them "sleep it off" overnight are the only safe alternatives.

"This holiday season, give the gift of true friendship," Christensen said. "Plan your party for those who have to drive when it's over."

Talents Needed

Teachers are needed to teach music and arts and crafts to special needs persons. The Andover Department of Community Services would like to offer these two classes in the Winter/Spring program beginning late in February. If you would like to offer your time and talent or would like more information call the department.

in town and three rural — has been able to keep up their end, he said.

The "wait-here-till-you're called" innovation that has had customers queuing up for the past several weeks, has met with positive response, O'Brien said, but was disbanded Monday because the lines were going all the way out the front door into the cold.

Most people like that system, O'Brien said, finding it more fair to be called in order than to be in the wrong line and wait five or 10 minutes while the next line moves right along.

The lines will be reinstated after the holidays.

Last Minute Suggestions

Time is running short for Christmas shopping, and for those last minute gift ideas, here are some suggestions from the Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture.

A colorful fruit basket will be a welcome present during the holiday season. Arrange fruits such as winter pears, grapes, apples, oranges and grapefruits in a re-usable basket and decorate with a bright red bow. If time is short, you can also shop for prearranged fruit baskets at your supermarket.

Many local orchards and roadside farm stands also offer gift boxes of apples, and as an added touch, you might include an apple slicer-corer or even a jug of cider.

An appropriate gift for the hostess is a centerpiece of fresh Massachusetts grown flowers, evergreens or holly. Traditional plant offerings include poinsettias in red, white and pink or Christmas cactus. Other potted plants suitable for giving are begonias, chrysanthemums, cyclamens, gloxinia and jade.

Holiday breads made with Massachusetts grown cranberries and apples, or jars of cookies and candies can also be easily prepared and attractively gift wrapped.

If you canned fresh garden vegetables in quantity or put up pickles and preserves last summer, you have an assortment of Christmas gifts already prepared. Including your recipe with these homemade presents adds a personal touch.

For a welcome host or hostess gift, package a variety of cheeses or purchase a prepackaged assortment. When selecting cheeses, remember to include various types, flavors and textures. Another idea is a bottle of wine from a Massachusetts winery!

Bresnahan Assigned To Pacific

Navy Machinist's Mate Fireman William F. Bresnahan, son of Brendan C. and Marilyn M. Bresnahan of 64 Sylvan Terrace, North Andover, has departed on a deployment to the Western Pacific.

He is a crewmember aboard the ammunition ship USS Kilauea, homeported in Concord, Calif., and currently operating as a unit of the U.S. 7th Fleet.

During the cruise, his ship will participate in training exercises with other 7th Fleet units and those of allied nations. Port visits are scheduled in Japan, Hong Kong, the Philippines and several other Far Eastern countries.

The Kilauea, 564 feet long, carries a crew of 267 officers and enlisted men. Designed to provide rapid transfer of missiles and munitions to other ships, this class ship normally carries two cargo helicopters. Replenishment can be provided by either heli-lift or high-line transfer.

A graduate of the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High School, Bresnahan joined the Navy in January, 1975.

To prevent rice, noodles or spaghetti from boiling over, add a few teaspoons of cooking oil to the water.

76 Pet Owners Beware

THE TOWNSMAN, DECEMBER 20, 1979

The staff at the Bulger Animal Hospital in North Andover would like to alert the general public to some potential pet accidents that can be avoided with a little caution and forethought.

Antifreeze — has a very inviting sweet taste which can be attractive to your pet if left where he can get at it. Antifreeze is poisonous and an animal who has ingested some shows signs of anxiety, moderate depression and incoordination. Vomiting frequently occurs, followed by slight paralysis and coma. To avoid this problem, antifreeze containers should be kept tightly closed and store where animals can not get into them. It is also important to make sure animals are not around when antifreeze is being drained.

With the advent of cold weather, cats can place themselves in a dangerous spot by looking for a warm place to sleep. Cats often crawl up inside of car engines and become caught in the fan belt as the unsuspecting car owner starts his engine. The best prevention is a simple whack on the hood with your hand and toot of the horn before starting the car. Even if you don't own a cat, be careful! The neighbor's cat may take a liking to your car!

As the holidays approach, household pets are subject to seasonal hazards as well. Glittering tinsel is attractive to animals, especially cats, and if swallowed it can create a blockage which might necessitate surgical removal. Most tinsel is now made with a plastic coating that will not show up on X-rays and this means more serious problems can occur. The tinsel blockage can cut right through the intestine and by the time the clinical signs of a blockage become evident the animal is in serious trouble. The results can be fatal, despite surgical intervention.

Italian Custom

In Italy, the Bethlehem scene, the "presepio," includes not only the King of the East and shepherds, but fish peddlers, organ grinders, pasta makers, peddlers with carts filled with fruit and vegetables, the nobles of the court, the urchins in the street.

Poinsettias are poisonous to animals and should not be left where a cat or dog would be able to nibble on them. Bones are often given to dogs as a treat, when, in fact they are extremely dangerous. Dogs can swallow bones, puncturing or blocking the intestines, or can break off small pieces that can become lodged in the throat or roof of the mouth.

The largest single cause of animal accidents, however, is automobiles. With the busy holiday season, while everyone is rushing around preoccupied, pets must be remembered by both the owners and drivers. It only takes a second for a cat or a dog to dart into the street, and the results are seen daily at the animal hospitals. Owners may think they are being kind to their animals to let them run free, when in fact, they are exposing them to a variety of dangers, many of which can be fatal. The conscientious animal owner is one who is aware of the potential hazards that his pet may encounter and who utilizes preventative measures to ensure the safety of the animals.

HOUSE VALUE VS LOT VALUE

What is the proper relationship between the cost of a lot and the value of the house on it? This question concerned building economists more in the past than it does now. Old rules of thumb have lost much of their meaning. It used to be said that land should represent about one-sixth of the home's purchase price. Then it moved up to one-fifth and is now approaching one-fourth. And it will change again as the cost of land continues to rise.

Nevertheless, the land value versus house value ratio cannot be totally dismissed because it does, to some extent, affect the resale value of the property. And resale value determines the ease or difficulty you'll encounter in securing a mortgage. In this light, it may not make a great deal of difference if you put an inexpensive house on an expensive lot, but it could be a mistake to have too much house for the land.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.
